

A SEA OF STARS

Personal Practice in Star Worship

WHO AM I?

Kai, aka Verastoc

Priest of the Morrigan

Emissary to the Lord of Night Waters

Diviner and Magician

Been around the kin communities since around 2006, doing magic just as long

QUICK DISCLAIMERS

- This isn't an astrology class
- Fair amount of UPG – Unverified Personal Gnosis
- Primarily from an Otherworld view, but other spirit/entity names can be applicable

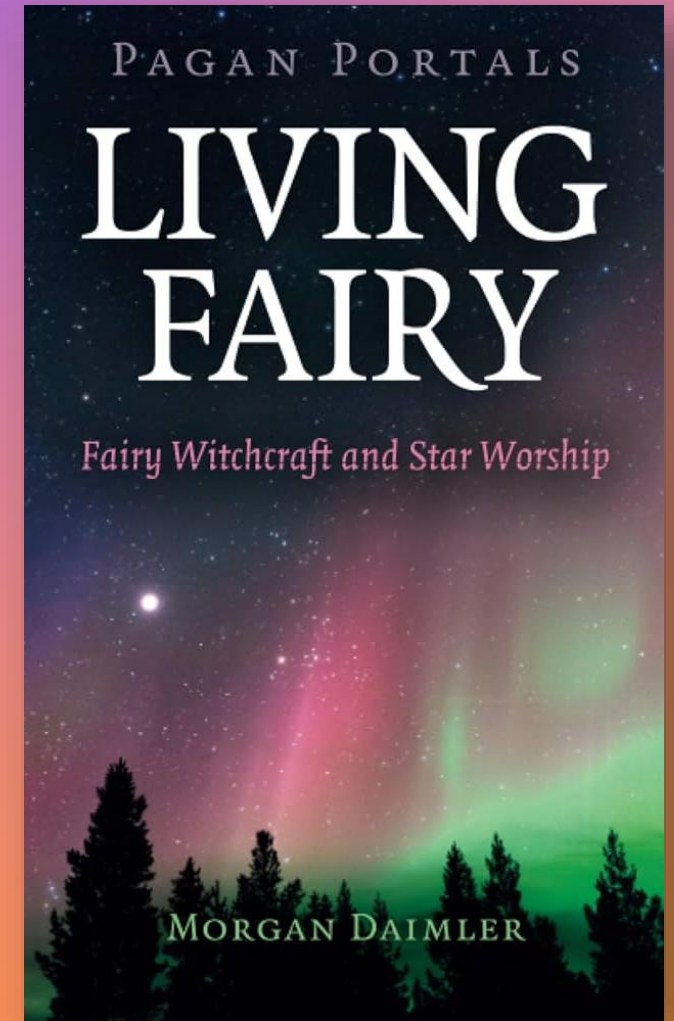

QUICK 101 RECAP

- Why star worship? Besides offering an alternative to the “Wheel of the Year” style workings, there’s a significant amount of cultural and historical basis. Plus, science is neat!
- How to stargaze without star access? Dark parks, planetariums, projectors, websites
- Other resources to start out – Star atlases, apps, local stargazing groups

Different Forms of Star Worship

- Astrology based, also leans into Alchemical/Ceremonial magic
- Modern traditions - Daimler's Fairy Witchcraft for example, which focuses on star movement and Otherworld celebrations
- Historical and cultural traditions
- Astronomy based - using more scientific notions to fuel your magic
- Figure out what works for you and tweak it to your needs

What counts as a star, anyway?

- Actual stars, obviously (Our Sun included)
- Types of stars to consider - Star systems (like Capella, a double binary system), stars on and off the main sequence, pulsars, dwarfs, even whole galaxies
- Not stars but are part of our cosmic landscape - Nebulas, black holes, cosmic filaments, fermi bubbles, quasars
- Some folks also use planets to represent specific figures or liminal deities that align with their star worship practice
- Special mention - Venus, also called Morning/Evening Star, luminesces by itself
- Cosmic phenomena here on Earth - auroras (solar wind), meteor showers, eclipses – or from Earth – JWST, Curiosity, Laika

WORKING STAR MAGIC

TECHNIQUES

Remember that you don't need to stay within an astrology framework - there are tons of cool astronomy concepts to bring in

- Pulsars – Used in astronomy for timing and coordinates, can be used in magical workings as beacons/lighthouses, anchor points, and precise timekeeping
- Black holes – Great for cleansing a space quickly or banishing things to another universe
- Caution – It's important to remember the cosmic scale of these things, a little goes a long way

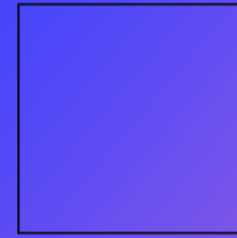

Getting started with workings

- Make sure to keep good records – journals, spreadsheets, etc.
- Don't think you can work with the stars? Wrong! We are all made of star stuff!
- Cosmic timescale makes things much more flexible
- Get comfortable with opening the dialogue – many entities are open to communication
- Some star magic may not be useful for earthly matters, but see what sticks

SIGIL BASICS

Basic shapes

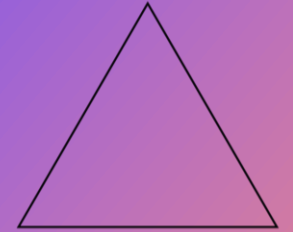

- Squares – general planes of reality
- Diamonds – generally specific locations or personal symbols
- Triangles – Elements, can be combined to represent body
- Circles – Most stars
- X – Either “Eldest Star” or placeholder
- Spirals- directional flow

Some theories:

- Iron – Formed in the core of dying stars, therefore could be related to dying gods
- Energy Centers lining up with Star Systems

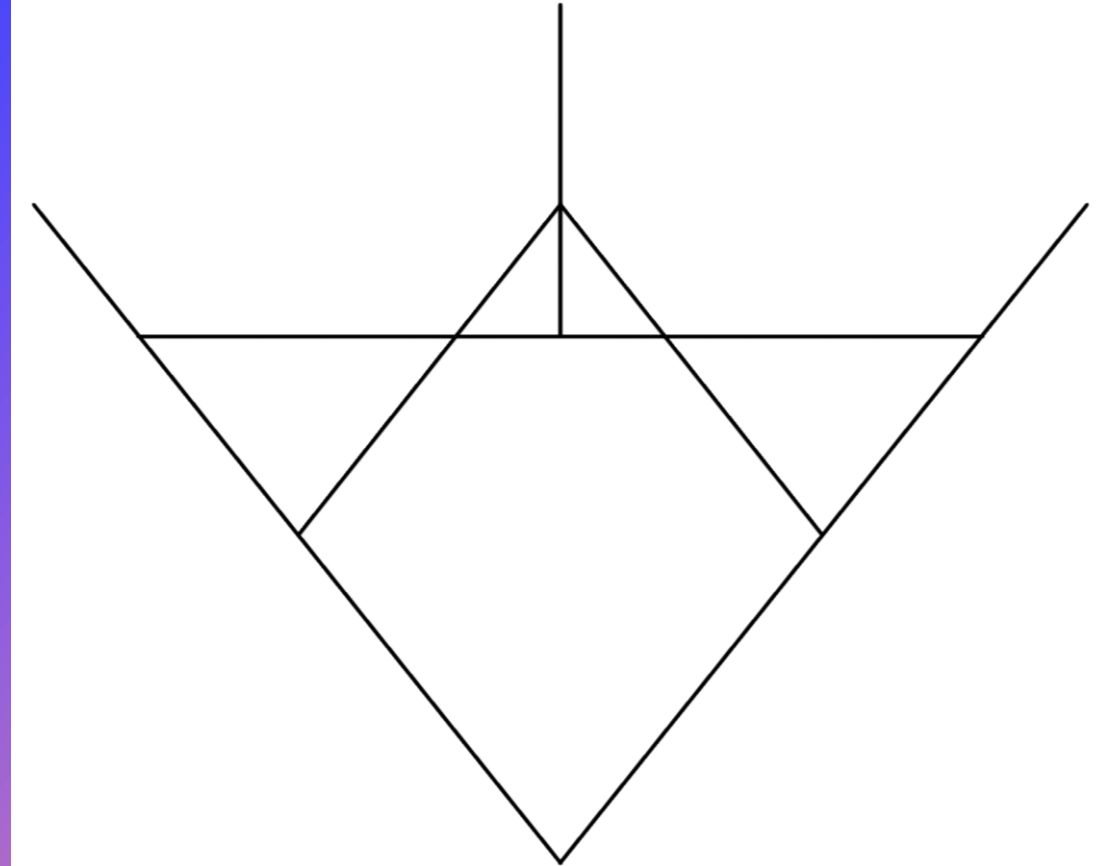

My personal and group gnosis:

- Liminal Gods
 - 7 Fairy Queens
 - Queen of Apples
 - Lord of Night Waters
- Eldest Ancestor is Oldest Star

PERSONAL GNOSIS AND HYPOTHESES

CONNECTING TO YOUR STAR

- Guided Meditation on connecting with “Home Star” coming soon, though I do need test subjects volunteers
- If you decide to go exploring on your own, make sure to get “Earth” designation from stars you work with, such as HIP designation
- Also try to get a symbol to connect with Them, “Official” emissaries use badge on the right in my experience
